REGIONAL VICE-PRESIDENT OF OPERATIONS

Growing up in a family of physicians, Pooja always felt connected to patient care, and spent many summer vacations in various roles helping her parents at the hospital. But after attending a conference and hearing a speaker say, “Medicine adds years to life, but physical therapy adds life to those years,” those words shaped the trajectory of her career.

Now as a Regional Vice-President of Operations for Consonus, Pooja brings more than 20 years of therapy experience in clinical and leadership roles, including in post-acute, hospital and out-patient settings. She’s an accomplished strategist and accessible leader known for strong project management, customer retention and team building. “My goal is to deliver robust customer support and outstanding outcomes, build an industry-recognized rehab team and seamlessly execute operational excellence,” she says.

Pooja graduated with a Bachelor of Physiotherapy degree from Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences in India. Her first post-college job was as a physical therapist in a skilled nursing facility, and she was quickly promoted into a leadership position. Along the way, she’s come to believe in the power of simplicity in life and work. “When we focus on what’s important, the results reveal themselves,” she says.

Outside of work, she enjoys traveling with her husband and two children, having new food experiences, cooking, reading or just listening to music.
